Antioch's postal workers don't have any spare time since they undertook the project of supplying packages of Kool Aid to Antioch boys serving in Viet Nam. Here three of them are completing packing of forty packages headed for Viet Nam. Left to right, Joe Chiuffo, Chester Golonka and R. J. Dowland.

ACHS Board Hires Teacher

The Antioch Community High School Board of Education hired a teacher at Wednesday night's board meeting to fill the vacancy created by the death of John Gudgel, mathematics teacher, in December.

Mrs. Lucille Kuechenmeister has been filling in as substitute teacher since Mr. Gudgel's death. The new teacher, Terence Faro, recently graduated from Eastern Illinois University and is completing his practice teaching at Paris High School. He reported to Antioch High School March 1.

The board was shown a series of slides, with tape accompaniment, covering the art, drama, vocal and instrumental activities, plus some taken at summer music camp. Prepared by the Fine Arts department, the slides and tape commentary show the activities of the Fine Arts department, and are intended for use in public relations. They are available for showing to interested civic groups. A series now being prepared will be concerned with the Diversified Occupations program at the school.

The board hired two part-time workers to fill the vacancy left when a custodian resigned. Don Lubkeman was hired as a bus driver, and Irvin Sorenson as a part-time custodian.

The board opened bids on a new school bus to replace the 1960 GMC. The low bid of Lyons & Ryan Ford on the chassis for $3,465.96, and the low bid of the Salancy Co. of Aurora, of $2,635.67 for a Carpenter body, were accepted.

Two letters were received from the office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction after visitations to the Guidance department and the cafeteria. In regard to the Guidance program, the letter gave approval and said that "our approval of your current guidance program indicates that the program is basically well organized and meets the needs of the students in your district."

Three recommendations were made for improvement of the program. 1. Organize a comprehensive group guidance program; 2. Develop a central guidance library in guidance area; 3. Additional clerical assistants.

The school lunch program was commended. The letter stated that food preparation and serving was good, equipment and facilities adequate and sanitation practices being maintained.

Improvements suggested for the hot lunch program was enforcement of the provision that all students who take the Type A (dietetically approved) lunch should also take milk.

The board authorized application for Title II funds under the ESEA Act for Library material in the amount of $1,715.30.

The board authorized application for reimbursement of about $10,000 from the Federal government for students whose parents work at Federal installations.

One acre of healthy forest requires 20 years to grow enough lumber to build a 5-room house, the Agriculture Department reports.

In Vietnam From Antioch

These are boys serving in Viet Nam. If you know of any Antioch servicemen or women serving in Viet Nam, turn in their names and addresses at the Antioch Post Office. Packages of Kool Aid will be sent to them periodically by the personnel at the Post Office.

Several letters have been received by the people at the Antioch Post Office from Antioch men and women overseas who have received the packages of Kool Aid and other small items sent out.

From Ken Larson:
Dear Sirs:
This is just a note to let you know how much I appreciated the package I received the other day.

All those things you sent will really come in handy. Things like that are really nice to get once in a while. The pen came in really handy. You see, I just happened to be about out of ink on my last pen. That is one thing that isn't too easy to get in the PX over here. The Kool Aid was really the best, the water really isn't too good here.

Other than that, things are really alright over here. So I just want to thank all of you once again for making it a little bit better. Thanks.
Dear Sirs:
Ken Larson

And from Frank L. Wais:
To the Wonderful People at the Post Office and the Town of Antioch.
Dear Sirs:
Thank you very much for the gift you have sent me. I would like you to know that it makes me feel good to know that the folks in the town of Antioch do care about us boys in Viet Nam. The Kool Aid sure does add flavor to the water and makes it taste a lot better. Again I say thank you for thinking about us.
Sincerely,
Frank L. Wais

And from Lt. Dora Coover, a nurse who will soon be returning to the U. S. from Viet Nam:
Dear Sir:
I am taking this opportunity to thank you for the Kool Aid and cards.

Girl Scouts Cookie Sale In March

Junior Cadet and Senior Girl Scouts of the Lakeview Girl Scout Council will be going door to door in the Antioch area from March 3 to 17 selling cookies in their annual Cookie Sale.

The cookies are of the same type sold in preceding years, plus a new cookie called the "Pixies."

The girls will take orders for cookies in March and they will be delivered between April 7 and 21. Proceeds of the sale go toward supporting the Girl Scouts camping program. A portion of the proceeds are returned to the local troop.

American Legion Plans Anniversary Celebration

Antioch's American Legion Post 748 is planning a giant birthday celebration in conjunction with the Legion's 41st anniversary March 9.

Highlighting the observance will be a dinner at 6:30 followed by a film on Viet Nam given by Sgt. Samples of the U.S.M.C. who just returned from active duty in Viet Nam. He will also conduct a question and answer period.

Dr. George Jensen will present a plaque to the post of all Past Commanders. A roll call of all Past Commanders will be held. Those unable to attend have sent short letters to be read in their absence.

Commander Stadick hopes all citizens, business houses and organizations will join in paying tribute to the good works of the organization, composed of veterans of the four wars of the twentieth century. Its leadership and guidance in all movements seeking the strengthening of our freedom and the perpetuation of our free institutions have identified the American Legion as one of the great bulwarks of the American way of life.

The American Legion has achieved its position of high esteem through its continuous pursuit of programs of service designed for the benefit of community, state and nation; such programs of service of the American Legion have become an integral part of this community and the local post a civic asset.

Grand Opening For Lyons-Ryan

A three-day Grand Opening celebration will give the public a chance to view the new Lyons-Ryan Ford Sales building on March 3, 4 and 5.

In addition to a chance to view Lyons & Ryan new home, and the 1967 cars, someone will win a new Mustang Hardtop at the end of the three-day Open House.

Everyone may sign up for the drawing for the new Mustang. The drawing will be held late Sunday afternoon and will be supervised by officers from the State Bank of Antioch.

Hours for the Grand Opening Friday and Saturday will be 8 a.m. to 9 p.m., and Sunday from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Friday evening from 5 p.m. to 9 p.m. visitors will have a chance to talk to Mike Ditka and Bob Kilcullen of the Chicago Bears.

Favors and refreshments for visitors will be on tap at all times. There will be 40 new Fords on display in the showroom and the service area. Also a complete camper truck will be on display.

Lyons & Ryan Ford Sales were located at the corner of Main St. and Park Ave. for ten years before moving to their new building on Route 173 east of the railroad tracks.

There has been a Ford garage in Antioch for over fifty years.

Lyons & Ryan moved into their new building in December. Architect for the building was Robert Francis Brown of Northfield. The John Rowman Co. was the General Contractor. Masonry work was done by Jim Carlson of Antioch, and floor tiling by the Lakes Co. Construction of the building started about August 1, 1966.

The new home of Lyons & Ryan is much larger than their former place of business. The new building covers about one acre, leaving about four acres of parking area.

The service garage boasts about $20,000 worth of new equipment. Ken Schultz, manager, says it is about the only garage in the area that can handle a truck of any size, and service 40 cars at one time. It is also the only garage in Lake County with ten overhead doors. Each mechanic has an overhead door to his service area.

The showroom has a floor of ceramic tile, and can display ten cars. The parts room is double the size of their former one. The building has nine offices.

Two School Districts Approve Tax Hikes

Voters of two Antioch school districts approved tax hikes of 21c in the educational tax rates of the schools last Saturday.

Antioch Grade School voters approved the higher tax rate with 256 "yes" votes and 176 "no" votes, with three spoiled ballots. Emmons School voters approved the tax hike, 142 to 78 with one spoiled ballot.

The tax raise at Antioch Grade School raised the educational tax rate from 90c to $1.11 per $100 of assessed valuation. This is the first increase in the AGS educational tax rate since March of 1945.

The Antioch Grade School board expects to have a deficit of about $48,000 by the end of this school year. The tax hike will appear on tax bills in the summer of 1968, which means that the school must operate on its present income through the next school year. By that time, the deficit is estimated at about $134,000. "We hope by spending our money carefully, that we will be able to get the school's finances straightened out once the extra tax money starts coming in," Supt. Richard Whitacre said.

Whitacre said he was gratified at the approval of the tax raise. "It was a bitterly cold day," Whitacre said.

Car Stickers Available

Supervisor Lloyd Murrie has announced that township car stickers are available to residents of unincorporated sections of the township at no charge at the Township offices on Main St., and at Murrie's Service Station on South Main.

The stickers may save you the nuisance of being ticketed for lack of a city vehicle sticker. Bring your car registration when you go to pick up a sticker.

"Not at all the kind of day to get people out to vote on a school referendum. We're grateful to the PTA mothers who helped to get out the vote."

"I feel the parents trust the school officials to spend their money wisely," Whitacre said. "That has been the history of this community. When the voters know that the school really needs the money, they give it to us. When the Oakland School was built, they approved a bond issue to build a building that could house 17 rooms, when we only needed nine. Those extra rooms have been completed and equipped and are in use without our having to go to the taxpayers with a referendum."

"We have a record of being honest with the taxpayers and it pays off," Whitacre said. "I sincerely hope that we will always merit that trust."

The Emmons School tax raise will raise the educational tax rate of the district from 82c to $1.03. The money will be used to staff and equip a six-room addition to the school, to be built this summer. Voters approved the building of the addition in a referendum held last year.

AGS Musicians Win 7 Firsts In District

Young musicians from Antioch Grade School were entered in fourteen events in the District Solo and Ensemble Contest last Saturday, Feb. 25. The Antioch Musicians took seven First Division ratings; six second division ratings and one third division.

First division ratings were: clarinet solo by Gary Rush; a woodwind quintet by Dawn Ellis, Candy Nelson, Bob Beevar, Janet Roberson and Renee Bobzien; a Flute Trio by Dawn Ellis, Gail Kumpfer and Vicki Lear; a B flat Clarinet quartet by Renee Bobzien, Diane Vos, Debra Toft and Debra Herbert; B flat Clarinet quartet by Robin Ellis, Sandra Smith, Nancy Howard and Janice Radke; a Mixed Clarinet Quartet by Darlene Owens, Elaine Wells, Betty Valentine and Terry Stewart; a Brass Sextet by Lee Bolton, Fred Bobzien, Danny Carrick, Richard Weiss, Janet Roberson and Brad Smith.

Those who won a First division rating are eligible to enter the State Contest.

The District Contest for the Band will be held at the Beach Park Grade School on March 18. The Antioch Grade School Band is scheduled to play at 3 p.m., immediately after the Lake Villa Grade School Band.

man. Standing, l. to r., Joseph Hunley, an official of the Lake County chapter of the Red Cross; Robert Lubkeman, retail chairman, and Everett Oftedahl, industrial chairman.

That Gun Law

That gun registration law, which brought floods of protesting mail to legislators at the last meeting of the General Assembly, is scheduled to come up for consideration again in this session of the Legislature.

A supporter of the law, on a radio program last week, dealt with a question often raised by opponents. That is the idea that Americans, having always been free to own firearms, constitute a great standing army in case of take over of the country by Communists or some other group.

This old premise, stated the speaker decidedly, is no longer valid. There is no danger of such a thing occurring in the United States today.

Presumably, the gentleman feels that bombs and airplanes have made such wars outdated. Yet most of the wars today are exactly the type of infiltration and door-to-door terrorism which would make the gun in every household a thing of value. And who is to say that such a war may not eventually be waged in this country?

In any event, registration of guns is not going to end crime in the U.S., nor even make a dent on it. Criminals will find a way to get guns, or will manufacture a substitute. It very possibly could increase crime, by increasing the number of stolen guns and hatching a thriving bootleg traffic in firearms.

A gun registration law will discourage ownership of guns by responsible, law-abiding citizens, and could provide potential enemies with a nice complete list of every firearm in the country. The criminal will find a way to circumvent the law.

If there is one thing we don't need, it's more laws. We need enforcement of the laws we have. Let the legislature spend their time removing loop holes in some of the laws already on the books.

Courthouse Notebook

BY LOU DURKIN

The American trucking industry spends hundreds of thousands of dollars each year in a public relations program and highway safety program to forestall legislation which might hamper the operations of the highway behemoths and in one night a few truck drivers can undo all the good that has been accomplished.

It is an unpleasant experience even on a clear day to be cruising along at or near the speed limit in a passenger car and then have several tons of truck breeze past you with a wind blast that almost flips you over.

It is infinitely worse when you are feeling your way carefully through a blinding storm.

In the course of a five mile drive through last Thursday's blizzard on Skokie Highway at least six trucks passed us at speeds well in excess of those dictated by the road and visibility conditions.

In each case the backlash of wind and the blinding swirls of drift snow thrown up by the trucks almost sent us in the ditch.

We thought briefly of getting the name of the company or the license number, but all identification was blocked out by the heavy snow coating the trucks or identification was impossible because of the weather conditions.

The drivers of these trucks were guilty of criminal negligence in their driving under those conditions.

In the light of this situation and similar incidents in other rain and snow storms it does not seem unreasonable to suggest legislation which would force trucks and buses off the highways when road and weather conditions are such that they become a definite menace to other motorists.

It may be true that our commerce and economy depend to a great deal on the fast, efficient transportation made possible by the trucks, but the economy also depends on live customers.

This looks like a rough legislative session for the tavern industry.

Some legislators, understandably concerned about the chilling highway fatality statistics are pushing for legislation which would make drunken driving a crime almost as bad as rape or murder.

They are pushing for an "implied consent" law which would make it mandatory for a driver to submit to a sobriety test even though this, in effect, would deprive a driver of his right not to incriminate himself guaranteed by the Fifth Amendment.

This evidence presented to a jury could convict a driver of reckless homicide in a traffic death even though it could not be proved that the intoxication actually had any direct bearing on the fatal crash.

Along with this legislation is a bill which would reduce the level of alcoholic content in the blood by which a driver would be adjudged legally intoxicated.

While the safety-conscious legislators are pushing for laws which will make a visit to your friendly neighborhood tavern less attractive and more risky another group in the Illinois General Assembly is seeking to pluck a few more feathers from the goose that lays all those golden tax eggs.

Liquor taxes already provide a substantial portion of state revenues and these are augmented by sales taxes paid by the tavern and restaurant industry.

The state taxes will almost certainly be increased during the present session and there are strong possibilities the legislature will give cities the right to impose an additional municipal tax on all liquor.

Even though the added costs are passed along to the customer it will almost cer-

Your Congressman Reports....

By Cong. Robert McClory

A spirited debate in the U. S. House of Representatives developed recently on the subject of the national debt.

Of course, if the national debt ceiling is not raised by $5 or $6 billion, the federal government simply cannot pay its bills, and the credit of the United States Government will be impaired with all of the far-reaching consequences that this would entail. On the other hand, some opponents declare that until the Administration is turned down on such a request, federal spending will continue to mount.

Questions of credibility as well as of economy have entered into the debt ceiling debates, and these subjects should be understood fully by the American public—since it is the public's money which is involved. While the debt ceiling approved by the U. S. House of Representatives is $336 billion, this figure does not in fact represent the total obligations of the federal government, either direct or contingent.

Recently, the federal government has engaged in the practice of selling so-called participation certificates. These evidences of indebtedness are at the same time an asset and a liability of the federal treasury. They consist of home mortgages, student loans and other types of obligations (held by the federal treasury) which the borrowers have agreed to repay, but which the federal government has guaranteed. Some of these participation certificates have been transferred to the Social Security trust fund and to the funds of other agencies in exchange for cash—in order to improve the appearance of the federal economy. The participation certificates are regarded as "outside of the national debt" and do not come under the $336 billion debt limit.

Republicans hold that direct obligations of this type, equally with government bonds and other obligations, should be included in the national debt—and failure to adopt this practice deprives the American people of information about their government and its economy to which they are entitled.

The federal debt is financed through so-called long-term and short-term obligations. Long-term federal bonds (5 years or more) are subject to a maximum interest rate of 4 1/4 per cent. Since the federal government itself cannot borrow at the present time at such a low interest rate, the necessary funds to finance the federal system are procured through short-term obligations—which are not subject to the 4 1/4 per cent interest rate limitation. On this short-term borrowing, the federal treasury has paid in excess of 6 per cent during the past year. Indeed, the interest rates paid by the federal government during 1966 are reported to be the highest in forty years.

Republican leaders have pointed out that if the long-term interest rate level were to be increased to, say, 4 1/2 per cent, a great deal of the short-term borrowing could be financed on a long-term basis at tremendous savings to the American taxpayer. It is estimated that the existing interest rate ceiling cost the federal treasury more than $1.5 billion in 1966 alone.

Democratic leaders have declined to adopt the practical step of increasing the long-term interest rate ceiling for the purely political reason that the rank and file Democratic Members in the House do not favor such a change. They declare this would denigrate them as the party of high interest. However, since interest rates actually paid by the treasury in 1966 were higher than at any time since 1927, it is difficult to appreciate the validity of this argument.

Since the measure upon which the House has acted will expire on June 30, the debates in the Congress are bound to continue for many months. Prior to June 30, the subject must come before the Congress again. It is to be hoped that by that time there will be greater public and Congressional understanding of the problems of the nation's economy and that there will be a willingness to recognize our total federal obligations. Provisions should be made also for the adequate funding of these obligations.

It is the opinion of this Member of Congress that by adopting such a position, the Administration could secure near-unanimous support from members of the House and Senate.

As It Happens —

By W. J. Murphy

A new trend has taken shape in the Legislature over the past six years and was intensified during the period of 1965-66 when the new inexperienced, hand selected, Blue Ribbon Group elected on the large orange ballot were sitting there. This trend is to allow the Leadership to form the entire Legislative Program; then they are all herded into conference (each party in separate conferences) and told how they must vote on these issues. If any individual Legislator fails to go along on these orders, he is then called disloyal and a defector and is marked for defeat by the ones in power such as the Ogilvies, certain County chairmen and Central Committeemen. This is bad enough but the so-called Leadership that sits down to make up these programs of Legislation are told pretty much what to do by whoever the Chief Office Holder of the State (in their party) happens to be at that moment.

In the case of the Republicans this man happens to be Richard J. Ogilvie, President of the Cook County Board. The reason he is so powerful is that he controls some 9,000 jobs (a pretty poor reason). Also in this instance, Ogilvie is pretty well under the control and direction of the liberal press of Chicago; consequently the liberal press (meaning the Chicago Daily News, Sun-Times and a few weeklies) are running the General Assembly and saying what is good or bad for the nearly 11 million people of our State. With the system as it has deteriorated into, we no longer need a Legislature!

Diversion Denied

The Legislature this week did deny Cook County and Ogilvie the 18 million accumulated Motor Fuel Tax Fund. The Republicans that held the line on this were all downstate men who are listed as friends of former Speaker John Lewis and the former leader, the writer of this article.

Bond Issue Approved

Unable to get the 18 million gas tax money for Ogilvie, the Leadership (Republican) then amended House Bill 331 that had asked for 10 million (for capital improvements for Cook County) and increased it to 25 million and also removed all restrictions from it so that it can be used to pay current bills, increase wages for nurses, county employees, etc. At four per cent interest over a 20 year period, this will cost the people of Cook County some 20 million dollars in interest. This was a Bond Issue without referendum. This writer and seven of his followers refused to support this. It passed with only a one vote margin. My sympathies to the people of Cook County. I sure would dislike having this happen to my people in Lake County and then have to tell them I supported it because my Leadership said I had to do it!

Politics

The above items all had political overtones as the floor of the House is being used by the Chicago politicians (who are the Leadership in this Session) as a stage for the Mayor's election in Chicago. I will be glad when it's over so we can consider State matters for the welfare of all the people of the State.

There is a lot of silly political oratory on the floor in Springfield at this time, but that is how it happens and I will report to you AS IT HAPPENS!

Senator Lanigan of Chicago would make it a crime for B-girls to be employed. His bill was amended to include B-boys. (This must be something new.)

Representative Anthony Scariano (Park Forest) would make it a crime for anyone to alter the odometer of a motor vehicle for the purpose of deceiving a prospective purchaser. (This should have been passed a long time ago.)

A number of other anti-crime bills have been introduced, and this number will grow in the weeks to come. Most of them will no doubt become law.

The most controversial will be gun control, wire-tapping, and "stop and frisk."

How do you feel about these? Have you written to your legislators about them?

Illinois government is big business with a big payroll, a big debt, many services, many facilities, abundant problems, and resources which, depending on one's point of view, may be rich, untapped or exploited.

It takes a great deal of money to keep this business functioning. Who provides this money and in what amounts is one of the major

Springfield Report

By Richard Lockhart

Crime and punishment are major items of legislative interest.

In the 1965 session, the Legislature enacted a series of wide-ranging anti-crime laws.

The 1967 Session is displaying a similar trend, which, if anything, is more imaginative in subject matter than before.

One thing from this legislature that you can count on is more State police. Both parties have now agreed that the number of State troopers should be increased from 1,100 to 1,500.

Three so-called anti-crime bills which failed in 1965 will be tried again. The most controversial of these was the gun control act. In 1965, this proposed law evoked more mail to legislators than any other issue.

My prediction is that this will fail again this year.

The "stop and frisk" bill was passed by the Legislature in 1965, but Governor Kern vetoed it. This will probably be repeated. (This proposal would permit law enforcement officials to search anyone suspected of committing a crime.)

The third issue is the wire-tapping bill. This would permit evidence secured through wire-tapping as admissible in court.

This Session, however, this proposal has been revised so as to permit the police to listen to, and record, any conversation providing they have the consent of one of the parties to the conversation. This new version introduced last week by Senator Favell, of Naperville, will probably pass.

Senator Favell has also introduced a bill to make it a crime to keep or use, in any public place, games of pinball, bagatelle or pigeon-hole.

Senator Lanigan of Chicago would make it a crime for B-girls to be employed. His bill was amended to include B-boys. (This must be something new.)

Representative Anthony Scariano (Park Forest) would make it a crime for anyone to alter the odometer of a motor vehicle for the purpose of deceiving a prospective purchaser. (This should have been passed a long time ago.)

A number of other anti-crime bills have been introduced, and this number will grow in the weeks to come. Most of them will no doubt become law.

Variety Show At Carmel

A Variety Show, sponsored by Carmel High School Student Council, will be presented in the Carmel Auditorium March 4 from 7:30 to approximately 10:30 p.m. Admission is $1.00.

Some of the acts include: a dramatic reading, a piano and an accordion solo, and a student cut of "Guys and Dolls." Most of the program, though, will be devoted to singing groups who perform either pop or folk music.

Though the show is aimed mainly at the high school audience, the general public is invited to attend. Tickets may be obtained by writing Sue Cairns, c/o Student Council, Carmel High School (for Girls, Mundelein, Ill.). They may also be purchased at the door.

Talent recruited for the performance comes from nine area schools, including: Carmel, Grant, Holy Child, Lake Forest, Loyola University, New Trier East, North Chicago, Stevenson, and Wauconda.

WHAT'S THE YOUNGER GENERATION COMING TO?

Today, more than 20 million American youngsters belong to Junior Red Cross. And they're a warm and wonderful example of what the younger generation is coming to.

They help out in hospitals. They send gift boxes to children abroad. They aid disaster victims. It would take a book to tell all the good things they do with such willingness of heart.

Junior Red Cross provides them with an outlet where they can be of service to others. It helps them grow into the kind of citizens our nation will need so much tomorrow.

Keep Red Cross strong to serve. This year, please be generous.

GOOD THINGS HAPPEN WHEN YOU HELP

Enter Soon, Bridge Fans

Bridge fans, you have but one week to sign up for Lions Club annual Bridge Tournament. Chairman Larry Ryan reminds all bridge players that entries must be in by Friday, March 10.

The tournament starts Monday, March 13. Opponents will be drawn by lot, and pairings will be listed on a card in the window of Wilton's Electric Shop. A score board, showing winners and losers of each match, will also be in Wilton's window as the tournament progresses. The pairings will also be listed at the Antioch News. Contestants in the bridge tournament enter as a team. The complete rules of the tournament were published in the Antioch News of February 16.

Anyone who lives in Antioch, Lake Villa, Salem or Trevor townships may enter the tournament.

The matches are played at the rate of one a week, and must be played between 8 a.m. Monday and 8 a.m. of the following Monday. Where and when each match will be played is determined by the two teams who are playing each other.

Entry blanks are available at the Antioch News office or from any of the committee members: Larry Ryan, Pres Reekers, Elmer Eberman, Dr. Tossey and Dr. James Kopriwa.

Serviceman Applauds "Project Viet Nam"

"Project Viet Nam", the personal crusade of the Antioch postal workers to extend a friendly hand of help and greeting to Antioch servicemen in Viet Nam, is getting a boost from many Antioch residents, and former residents.

We received a letter and check to help out in the project from a former Antioch resident now serving in the armed forces, stationed in Florida. You may remember a news item in our paper just before Christmas in which we told of a service couple, home for Christmas, who had lost all their Christmas money when the lady's purse fell from the car. This is the same couple whose letter follows.

Dear Editor:

Recently, my mother-in-law (Mrs. Donald Woolner) purchased a subscription to the Antioch News for us. It is a gift that is well enjoyed and we truly look forward to receiving it each week.

While reading this week's Antioch News, we were very happy to read about the progress of "Project Viet Nam." This is a wonderful thing the people of Antioch are doing. Being a Service family ourselves, we know how such thoughtfulness will be appreciated by the G.I.'s in Viet Nam.

We haven't too much to give, but we would like to help a little. Would you please make sure this check for $2.00 gets to the people in charge of "Project Viet Nam."

We thank you for your

Mid-Winter Concert At AHS

The Fine Arts Department of Antioch High School will present a Mid-Winter Concert by the Concert Chorus in the high school auditorium Saturday, March 4, at 8 p.m.

The choir will be under the direction of Ralph G. Brooke. A program of great variety will be presented, including sacred songs such as the "Hallelujah" from Beethoven's Mt. of Olives; secular songs from Broadway show tunes, to folk songs; and spirituals, a great contribution to American music.

As a special feature the choir will present the Madrigal Singers, singing two early Italian madrigals; Miss Pat Lombardo, singing Oley Speaks' "Morning" and David Bushnell, piano soloist, will play Chopin's "Polonaise", Op. 54.

Tickets for the Mid-Winter Concert will be sold by the choir members, or may be purchased at the door.

We're proud to announce the arrival of a new telephone service at St. Therese Hospital.

Starting March 5, you can dial calls direct to patients!

The new Centrex System installed in St. Therese Hospital in Waukegan will let you dial calls direct to friends or relatives, who are patients there, without having to go through the switchboard.

Each telephone in patients' rooms will have its own number. And starting March 5, St. Therese will have a new main telephone number — 688-5800. If you don't know the phone number of the patient you wish to call, simply dial the new main number and the switchboard operator will connect you.

Centrex will bring new convenience to everyone at St. Therese — patients, staff, visitors. It is another step in the modernization of hospitals in the Waukegan area. And another example of the better telephone service Illinois Bell is always striving to provide.

Elderly Can Get Help With Medicare Reports

Older people in the Lake-McHenry County area who have paid doctor bills but have not yet claimed their medicare doctor bill insurance payments the invited to have their claims checked by the Waukegan social security office before mailing them to the medicare carrier, according to Bernard Barnett, district manager.

"In the first six months of the medicare program some benefit payments were delayed because the applicants did not include all the necessary information with their claims," he said.

Barnett believes that most people will need this help only the first time they make a medical insurance claim. "The Medicare Handbook, which is given to all beneficiaries, explains how to make the claims," he said, and the form is relatively simple, but most people can use some advice the first time they apply. We're glad to offer assistance, and we believe we can help many people to avoid some delay in their payment."

If the beneficiary leaves out his medicare identification number, for example, it is impossible to verify that he is signed up for the doctor bill insurance, or how much of his deductible amount has been paid. Some elderly people with failing eyesight are unable to make legible entries. And some do not get adequately itemized receipts from their physicians, or forget to enclose the receipts with their claims. If the request for payment form is incomplete or improperly filled out, the medicare carrier has to write back to the beneficiary, thus delaying the payment.

"The social security office does not make the decision or pay the claim," Barnett said. "The law requires that the payments be handled through the selected medicare carriers. But we can answer general questions about medicare and help people in the Lake or McHenry County area get their applications ready for review by the carrier."

"If an older person cannot visit the social security office in person, he can send the forms by mail or by someone else," he said, "but in this case, he should be sure to give his telephone number."

The Waukegan social security office is located at 2500 West Grand Avenue in Waukegan. The phone number is 244-5050.

Salvation Army Drive Reaches Goal

The final report on The Salvation Army's Christmas campaign showed total contributions of $538,325. Lt. Colonel Gordon A. Foubister, director of Greater Chicago Activities, reported Monday.

The Army's holiday fund for the needy of the Chicago area had a budgeted goal of $493,500. The campaign opened formally on Nov. 25.

Although the campaign didn't reach its goal by Christmas eve, warm-hearted Chicago area people continued to send contributions for six weeks after Christmas and put the holiday fund over the top.

"We are deeply grateful to the media people who did such a wonderful job of focusing attention on the campaign, and to all the generous people who responded to their appeals," said Colonel Foubister.

"The contributions to the Christmas fund provided food, gifts and help for more than 44,000 children, men and women on the Army's holiday list, and will enable the Army to continue its year-round program of assistance for those in need."

Opening New Dog 'N Suds

Evelyn & Jerry Miller and son, Don, of Antioch, have recently completed an intensive training program at Dog 'n Suds management training school in Champaign, Ill., national headquarters of Dog 'n Suds, Inc.

Mr. Miller will be opening his Dog 'n Suds drive-in at Rollins and Washington, Ingleside, between the 1st and 15th of March.

Spring Styles At "Feast & Fashion"

The latest in fashion, plus some highly imaginative hats, will be featured in the Feast and Fashion show coming up at the Antioch Methodist Church.

The Feast & Fashion show is an annual event sponsored by the Women's Society of Christian Service of the church. A luncheon, plus a showing of Spring styles, makes up an afternoon of pleasant entertainment for the ladies.

The styles will be from Lanathan's in Waukegan. Co-chairmen of the affair are Mrs. Kenneth Smouse and Mrs. Robert Bemis. Modeling the spring and summer styles will be Mrs. Charles Watson, Mrs. Einar Petersen, Mrs. Roger Andrews, Mrs. Robert Wilton, Jr., Mrs. Bernard Stadick, Mrs. Ronald White, Mrs. James McDowell, Mrs. Don Beveroth, Mrs. James Glenn and Mrs. George Hahn.

The Feast and Fashion Show starts at noon at Wesley Hall of the Methodist Church next Wednesday, March 8. Ticket reservations may be made by phoning Mrs. Smouse at 395-1333.

Kathleen Ann Zanck

Betrothed

By Bernice Bernau

Miss Kathleen Ann Zanck and Clarence G. Erickson, Jr., will be married April 8 in Prince of Peace Church, Lake Villa. Mr. and Mrs. George Zanck, Sr., 2015 E. Old Elm Rd., Lindenhurst, have announced the engagement of their daughter to the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence G. Erickson, Sr., of 1913 Lotus Dr., Round Lake.

Miss Zanck is a 1965 graduate of Antioch High School and now employed at the Great Lakes Naval Training Center in the Electronic Supply Office. Her fiancé is stationed at Ft. Hood, Texas, with the U. S. Army.

Woman's Club To Present Stage Star

The March 6th meeting of the Antioch Woman's Club will present "Musical Comedy Miniatures" with Ann Varese, and her daughter, Lee and son Rob.

Ann Varese is a topflight performer, who has had a varied and successful theatrical career in musical comedy. In Dallas, Hollywood, and Chicago she has appeared on radio and TV shows. She has performed throughout the United States and abroad in legitimate theatres as well as night clubs and conventions. She has been a featured platform star appearing for colleges, clubs, and organizations. She has starred at Shady Lane Playhouse, Marengo, in many of her outstanding one woman shows.

Now producing, directing and starring in her own full length musical comedy productions, she has formed ANN VARESE AND COMPANY.

Songs from "Bye Bye Birdie", "Music Man", "Molly Brown", "Tovarich", "Fierello" and others will feature her daughter Lee, 16 years old, and son, Rob, 10 years. Their accompanist will be Verna Schlafner.

The meeting will begin at 1 p.m. at the Scout House.

The hostess committee for the afternoon will be Mesdames James Carlson, Alma Bobzin, Harry Lubeno, James Maplethorpe, Paul Chase, Sr., John Wiecek, Loren Sexauer and Richard Miller.

AGS Band To Play Concert

The Antioch Grade School Junior Band will play a short concert Tuesday, March 7, at 8 p.m. at the AGS gym. The concert is being given for the Band Parents Association, and is open to the public.

A rummage sale on Friday and Saturday, March 10 and 11, is the next fund-raising activity of the Band Parents. The group is attempting to raise enough money to send the Band to Montreal for Expo 67 next summer.

More rummage is needed for the sale, announces Mrs. Gloria Carrick, chairman of the group. Anyone wishing to contribute can drop items off at the Antioch Grade School any morning between 8 and 9 a.m. or Saturday morning from 9 to noon.

Mrs. Carrick said that the spaghetti dinner held last Sunday was a success, and thanked Merry Go Round Bakery, Gonnella Bakery, Herb Horton, A&P Food Store, IGA, Jewel Tea Store, Lasco's Greenhouse, Piggly Wiggly and Floral Acres for their help.

American Legion Auxiliary News

By Del Jahneke

The regular business meeting of the Antioch American Legion Auxiliary No. 748 will be held on Friday, March 10th, at 8 p.m., with Mrs. Ray Rathmann, President, as the presiding officer. Mrs. Frank Kennedy, Sr., is the hostess chairman, with Mrs. Edna Rathmann, Mrs. Evan Kaye, and Mrs. Marjorie Yopp, as her committee. Starting on March 6th, and continuing every Monday and Thursday, until the 150,000 red poppies are fashioned, the Poppy Fabrication Program moves into "high gear" at Downey Hospital. Volunteers are asked to report on Mondays and Thursdays from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., at the clinic in Building 134, at Downey Hospital, 10th District Poppy Chairman is Mrs. Norman Holt, North Chicago, and the Antioch Unit Poppy Chairman is Mrs. Ray Rathmann.

Mrs. Norman Holt was selected to represent the 10th District American Legion Auxiliary National Security Chairman, at a special program, held recently at the Great Lakes Naval Training Center. Admiral Albrittain, U. S. Navy, in co-operation with Lieutenant Joan McIntyre, Nurse Program Officer of the U. S. Naval Recruiting Station in Chicago, extended an invitation to the Department (state) President, Mrs.

Louis Unter, Department Secretary Mrs. Mildred Knoles; Department National Security Chairman Mrs. Edna Brooks; and the 25 District National Security Chairmen of the Antioch Legion Auxiliary; to be the guests of the U. S. Navy.

The women toured the Great Lakes Hospital, and visited with the wounded Viet Nam veterans. The Illinois American Legion Auxiliary donated a $250 tape recorder for the use of patients at Great Lakes Hospital. The Auxiliary members were then shown a film, "The Navy Nurse", (part of the Navy recruiting program for nurses, and the encouragement of young girls to be navy nurses.) 860 patients are cared for at Great Lakes Hospital, although it was equipped originally for 450 patients. However, all patients there still receive excellent care. Two Hospital Ships are in operation at all times, and one of them is stationed in the Viet Nam area.

The Auxiliary members were given luncheon at the Officers' Mess Hall. As a fitting climax to this day, the women then sat on the reviewing stand, and watched the Recruit Graduation Ceremony.

Governor Richard Jorgensen, Jr. Governor Seth Mark and Mrs. Mark traveled to Mooseheart Sunday to help celebrate the birthday of Grant Blaney, brother of the Chapter's sunshine child, Velma Blaney. He was very excited over their visit and with the gifts he received. It is very heart warming to see the Loyal Order, as well as the Chapter of Antioch (take such a special interest in all of the Blaney children who are living at Mooseheart and there are four of them. Mrs. Betty Blaney and the fifth child still remain in Canada but hopes to be reunited with her children in the future.

The meeting which was scheduled for the Moose Hunting Club last week Thursday was cancelled because of the disastrous weather conditions that existed and was re-scheduled for a later date of which all members were notified. Preparations are to be made for the Hasenpfeffer dinner that is to take place.

The Ho-Bo Dinner sponsored by the Legionnaires and held at the Antioch Moose Home Saturday evening, Feb. 25, was a big success. The majority of the members cooperated by dressing as Ho-Bo's which was a riot in itself and most of them stayed for the dancing that followed the dinner.

Diana Stagg, foreign exchange student of Antioch Community High School, will be the guest speaker for the Women of the Moose at the meeting to be held at the Moose Home, Thursday, (tonight) March 2. She is also planning to entertain the women by playing the guitar and singing. Also expected to be present at this meeting is Magdalene Remsing, Deputy Grand Regent of Illinois for the Women of the Moose. Beatrice Perry, chairman of the Moosehaven Committee will have charge of the Chapter Night Program.

The W.O.T.M. Officers are scheduled to meet at the home of Florence Farber Thursday evening, March 9. Seth Mark will be the chef for the fish fry scheduled for Friday evening, March 3, to be held at the Antioch Moose Home.

The 3rd District meeting will be held at the Fox Lake Moose Home, Thursday evening, March 2.

Govt. Work-Study Program Helps Youths Through College

WASHINGTON, D. C.—President Johnson has announced that approximately 190,000 students whose college education depends on having a job will receive help from the Federal college work-study program during the first half of 1967.

Nearly $82 million in grants has been awarded by the U. S. Office of Education to 1,541 colleges and universities to provide jobs for students who could not enter or continue in college without financial help. Institutions in all 50 states, the District of Columbia, Guam, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands are participating in the program. The present award continues financial assistance in effect during the first half of the current school year.

Since the college work-study program began in the spring of 1965, under the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964, Federal grants totaling $219.9 million have been made available. The program provided jobs for 37,000 financially needy college students during the first semester it was in effect and has increased each school year to the present total of 190,000. The number of institutions participating has increased from 674 to 1,541.

Under the program, students may work up to 15 hours a week while in school and up to 40 hours a week during vacation. The Federal Government pays 90 per cent of the wages of student workers, and the remaining 10 per cent is provided by the college or off-campus employer.

Student employment consists of on-campus jobs such as library aides, teachers' assistants, maintenance workers, laboratory assistants, and administrative aides. Off-campus work is in State and local health, welfare, and recreation programs.

A college or university presents its overall request for Federal assistance to a regional panel set up by the Office of Education. The panels are composed of local college officials and Federal student financial aid officers. The U. S. Commissioner of Education makes awards to the institutions on the basis of panel recommendations.

A student needing financial assistance applies to the college he is attending or plans to attend for participation in the program.

"Be Yourself" Advises Prof.

Are you trying to diet your pleasingly plump, rounded figure into an anorectic type board? Desist, advises professors C. Wesley Dupertuis and Helen S. Dupertuis, clinical anthropologists of Western Reserve University Medical Centers here. The professors concur in the Bard's injunction, "To thine own self be true."

Some people are born to be plump, the professors conclude after a five-year study of 1,000 freshman coeds. Noting that a majority of the girls diet, to attain a mythical "ideal" figure, while their individual body types may be something quite different, Prof. Helen Dupertuis observed, "We don't agree that slenderness is necessarily good. There is no reason why people should all look alike—they're not made alike." And, added her husband, "A man like Falstaff would probably have been ruined, both psychologically and physically, if you tried to

Expenses For Charity Projects Are Deductible

Amounts paid to charitable organizations may be deducted as contributions by individuals on their 1966 Federal income tax returns if they itemize deductions.

To qualify as a deduction, the amount must be paid to the organization before the end of the taxable year, explained E. C. Coyle, Jr., District Director of Internal Revenue for Northern Illinois.

He said some of the items which are considered to be deductible as contributions if they are unreimbursed are:

Out-of-pocket expenses incurred in rendering services to a church or charity.

Amounts paid for gas, oil or bus fare for transportation necessary in performing your services. In lieu of the actual expenses for gas, oil, etc., a standard mileage rate of 5 cents a mile may be deducted for the use of a personal automobile, and

Cost and upkeep of uniforms you wear as a volunteer, if the uniform is not suitable for general wear.

Mr. Coyle said some expenses not considered deductible as contributions are:

Depreciation or insurance on your personal car;

Gifts to individuals; and

The value of your services furnished to an organization. Taxpayers who frequently donate their services should keep records, receipts, check stubs and other evidence of the expenses to substantiate their deductions.

When washing windows, add a few drops of bluing and kerosene to sudsy water. Rinse and polish with crumpled newspapers or a lint-free cloth.

Add food coloring to plastic starch to make finger-paint that washes out of clothes easily.

Foreign Students Visit Antioch High

Seven students from foreign countries, attending various high schools in the area under the auspices of the American Field Service, visited Antioch High School last Friday.

The foreign students told about their native country and their experiences in the United States at an Assembly in the auditorium. They had lunch in the school cafeteria, visited some classrooms and paused long enough in their tour to have some pictures taken.

The visiting students are attending Waukegan, Zion-Benton, Libertyville and Grayslake High Schools. Antioch's foreign exchange student, Diana Stagg, and student officers of the A.F.S. at Antioch High School accompanied the visiting students during the day.

Andreas Melas, from Cyprus, is attending Zion-Benton High School; Volgerdur Ingimarsdottir, from Iceland, attends Waukegan H.S.; Irmgard Specht, Germany, attends Libertyville H.S. as Viet Nam. Nesta Foxon, from South Africa, attends Zion-Benton.

Victor Manela, from the Philippines, attends Waukegan H.S. Aida Matos, Brazil, attends Grayslake H.S.

Three of the foreign students were accompanied by their American "sisters", daughters of the family with which they live during their stay in our country. Irmgard Specht and Annette Fougies are "sisters"; Carol Plummer and Nesta Foxon, and Huang The Luong live in the home of Dade Sharp.

Most of the students expressed disenchantment with the severe winter weather we've had this year. It was a sub-zero day last Friday. Said Victor Manela of the Philippines, "We never have snow at home, of course, and I was anxious to see it. But I've seen enough this winter."

Volgerdur Ingimarsdottir of Iceland said, "Most of the people here seem to think Iceland is cold, but it's not. It's very cold here—I don't care much for the cold weather."

"Tina" Luong and Nesta Foxon, both from warm countries, also preferred their own climates.

Irmgard Specht and Volgerdur agreed that school hours in America are too long. "We're out of school by 1 p.m. in Germany," said Irmgard, and Volgerdur agreed, adding that home work was usually done by supper time, leaving the evening free.

ones who suffer from raids and battles.

All of the students spoke English well and had no difficulty in expressing their thoughts. Tina Luong wore her native dress, a pretty print dress, ankle length. Except for that minor difference, they might have been taken for any group of American students at school.

Tax Refund Can Buy Savings Bonds

Savings Bond Chairman for Lake County, Philip L. Spiedel reminds taxpayers that the Treasury Department will once again offer them the opportunity of taking income tax refunds in United States Savings Bonds.

The savings option, introduced in 1963, is in addition to the two standard options of taking tax refunds in cash or applying them to next year's tax.

Scheskie Establishes Rules of Procedure

Sheriff Harold Scheskie has outlined, in a news release, some of the changes he has made in procedure since he took over the office of sheriff of Lake County.

First change involves removal of a partition in the main office, so that all activities in the office may be observed by any visitor.

Responsibility for the efficiency and supervision of deputies in the main office has been delegated to Lt. James Repp, who is also in charge of the Investigative Division. Process servers and bailiffs are required to keep a daily activity report.

Process servers, who are now assigned to two shifts, must submit their activity report to the sheriff. In this way, the sheriff knows how many legal papers are served in any day by a deputy.

Responsibility for court bailiffs and their assignments has been delegated to Deputy Robert Jenkins. He submits a weekly report to the sheriff.

All deputies now receive their salary twice a month. Mrs. Dolores Housley is the new bookkeeper and is responsible for all money which is received in the sheriff's office for services rendered. During the last two months, says the report, the office has returned $38,626.90 in fees to the county.

Of this sum, $1,004 was for pilot copies of automobile accident reports. There is no official record, says Scheskie, which would indicate that any previous administration had returned any money for accident reports.

A comprehensive file on each deputy has been established, with his history, background, etc., and will be maintained recording merits, demerits, etc.

All employees are furnished a written policy manual.

"When a taxpayer elects to take his refund in Series E Bonds," Mr. Spiedel says, "his money goes to work immediately on two jobs. It begins to build his financial security. At the same time, it contributes to our country's economic strength. Those who elect the U. S. Savings Bond option join millions of Americans who are investing in their country's future in this way."

"When you check the Savings Bond line on your 1966 tax form," Mr. Spiedel continued, "you automatically assure yourself of two advantages: You provide yourself with an easy method of holding on to your tax refund dollars and a sure way of making it grow one-third larger at maturity. When your mark is made, the rest is automatic. For example, if you're entitled to a refund of $42, you'll get a $50 face-value Series S Bond (cost $37.50), plus a check for $4.50."

Mr. Spiedel said, "Choosing Bonds is the surest way I know of to make your tax refund really mean something to you."

Easter Seals In Mail Soon

State Senator Robert Coulson has been appointed honorary chairman of the annual Easter Seal Campaign for the support of the Lake County Easter Seal Treatment Center at 1103 Greenwood Avenue, Waukegan.

Douglas Rockenbach of Grayslake, president of the Easter Seal Center announced the appointment and Sen. Coulson will assist in the effort to reach a goal of $50,000.

Assistant State's Attorney Robert Smart is chairman of the committee in charge of the annual solicitation in behalf of the Easter Seal board of directors.

The Lake County Treatment Center operates an extensive set of equipment for the use of trained therapists in working with patients, most of whom are referred to the center for physical, occupational and speech therapies by their doctors and other social agencies.

Funds received from the annual mailing of Easter Seals pay for the operation of the Treatment Center at which children and adults, including geriatrics, are given rehabilitation treatment for disabilities caused by birth defects, illness, accident or advanced age.

Champion Sequoit Team Moves Into Regional Play

As we go to press Wednesday, the Antioch Sequoits will be preparing to face Prospect in the second game of the Regional tourney.

The winner of Wednesday night's game will play for the championship Friday night at Palatine-Fremd High School at 8 p.m. If the Sequoits win Wednesday night, tickets for the championship game Friday will be on sale at Antioch High School Thursday and Friday.

With the District championship safely tucked away, an inspired Antioch team went to the Palatine Regionals, and defeated Mundelein 78-52.

The first half was even, with the lead changing hands ten times and the score tied eight times. Mundelein, hitting well from the outside, kept pace with the Sequoits' 50% shooting.

Empfield and Walls scored well for the Sequoits to keep Antioch even with the Mustangs. At half time, the score was Mundelein 35, Antioch 34.

In the third quarter Antioch started to click. Their defense took hold and Walls got free for three baskets. At the end of the third quarter, the Sequoits nursed a 47-44 lead, never to be headed again. Mundelein started out in a zone the 4th quarter, but Walls hit a 30-footer and Empfield a short jumper. Zeman hit from the foul line. By this time Antioch lead by ten points. From then on, the Sequoits had everything their own way, and the Antioch Express rolled on to outscore Mundelein 31 to 8 in the 4th quarter. Mundelein was held to 17 points in the second half.

Coach Roger Andrews said, "It was one of our finest games. Our defense was superb the last half and in the fourth quarter our fast break really moved."

"I've been extremely proud of the team," Andrews said. "The fine rebounding and hustle of Bruce Empfield has helped greatly. Bruce is really trying to prove himself as a basketball player. Steve (Miklautsch) made some fine moves in the Mundelein game."

"The support the Antioch fans have given the team is really terrific," Andrews continued. "The boys are all grateful—so am I."

The Sequoits shot 51% from the field, and 69% from the free throw line. Walls hit on every charity shot he had, and lead the scoring with 26 points. Empfield scored 17 points, and lead in the rebounding department. Zeman scored 11 points and Whitson 10. Miklautsch accounted for 8 points, Strahan 4, and Sheldon 2.

Mundelein shot 39% from the field and 57% from the free throw line.

DISTRICT TOURNEY CHAMPS; 3 STRAIGHT FOR SEQUITOIS

Antioch 60, Grayslake 32

Starting out tourney play with a victory over Grayslake, the Sequoits were not too impressive. The first quarter they were flat and failed to function.

In the second and third quarters, with Zeman, Empfield and Walls functioning on all cylinders and the defense in good form, the Sequoits opened a 48 to 32 lead. The reserves played a good deal of the fourth quarter.

Don Zeman and Bruce Empfield lead the Sequoits in all departments as they scored 22 and 20 points respectively and grabbed 10 and 18 rebounds each.

Gary Rippberger set the pace for Grayslake with 21 points and 12 rebounds.

Antioch 71, Lake Zurich 68

The Sequoits played good steady basketball against Lake Zurich and had their fast break working well.

The score at the end of the first quarter was 19-15; Antioch lead 40 to 30 at the half and at the end of the third quarter the score stood 58 to 46. It looked as though the Sequoits had everything under control when the lead stretched to 16 points, 74-48, with six minutes to go. At this point, the Sequoits cooled off and Lake Zurich started hitting. Jerry Whitson fouled out with 3 minutes to go, and some mistakes were made by Antioch players. However, they hung on to win.

Bill Smith, Bill Sheldon and Jim Litchfield filled in beautifully as Empfield, Miklautsch and Whitson were in foul trouble.

Again the Sequoits won the game from the foul line. They hit 23 of 34, while Lake Zurich hit 16 of 30. Lake Zurich outscored the Sequoits 52-48 from the field. Antioch's over-all team play proved to be the deciding factor.

Antioch 61, Grant 60

In a thriller that left fans of both teams hoarse, Antioch defeated a fired-up Grant team to take the District championship.

With Lee Oler and Sam Reimers leading the way, Grant moved to a lead in the first half. Grant hit 11 of 17 shots from the field and 15 of 16 from the foul line in the first half, as Reimers scored 12 points and Oler 16 points.

The second half was all Antioch's. In the third quarter, the Sequoit defense took hold as Grant hit only one basket of 5 shots and a total of four points. Antioch's offense moved well, too, as Litchfield, Empfield and Whitson hit from outside. During this quarter the Sequoits moved from an eight-point deficit to a five-point lead. The Sequoits used a zone defense the last 3 minutes of the quarter as Zeman and Walls had four fouls.

In the 4th quarter, the Sequoits continued to move and opened up a 9-point lead with 4 minutes to go. With 3 minutes to go, the Sequoits controlled the ball and Bruce Empfield was open underneath for 3 easy baskets. Spencer and Oler rallied the Grant forces but couldn't pull out the victory.

With 6 seconds left in the game, Grant called time out and was trailing 61-58. With one second left, the Sequoits avoided a possible tie, via a free throw and quick basket, by letting the Grant team score. Jerry Whitson stepped out of bounds with the ball and the gun went off, signaling Antioch's third straight District win, and the school record for most wins in one season (23).

Empfield led the scoring in the game with 17 points, with Walls adding 12, Zeman 10, Whitson 8, Miklautsch 6 and Litchfield 8. Empfield led the Sequoits in rebounding with 12, Zeman grabbed 11. The Sequoits averaged 52 per cent on field goals, 65 per cent from the charity line. Grant made 49 per cent from the field, 60 per cent of their free throws. Oler lead the scoring for both teams with 26 points. Reimer had 15.

Soph Squad To Play Sat. In Tourney

The Antioch Soph basketball squad, after winning a three-way tie with Warren and Wauconda for first place in the Northwest Suburban Conference, goes into tournament play at Mundelein High School Saturday, March 4. The young Sequoits will meet Carl Sandburg H.S. at 2:30 p.m. Saturday. If they emerge victorious, they will play their second game at 5:30 p.m. Monday, March 6. Finals of the tournament will be played Thursday, March 9. Other games scheduled at Mundelein H.S. will be Libertyville vs. Carmel at 9:30 a.m. Saturday; New Trier West vs. McHenry at 11 a.m. Saturday; and Mundelein vs. Main East at 1 p.m. Saturday.

Wells 7th In State Finals

The Antioch varsity wrestling squad completed their season recently and one member of the team, Wilford Wells, went to Champaign for the state finals this past weekend.

The 103 lb. Wells won his first match downstate, defeating Rich Skelnik of East Leyden, 3-2. He lost his second match to Rich Calhoun of Morris, a senior, 5-2.

"Wells did a wonderful job, and I think he'll take the whole bag of marbles next year," Coach William Neuman said. "Wells is a sophomore, and he's been wrestling juniors and seniors all year. He has a record of 22 wins and 3 losses for the season. He was never beaten by an underclassman."

Wells won the District meet in his class and was second in the sectional at Waukegan. He was also conference champion.

"It was a real good tourney," Neuman said of the Champaign meet. Rock Island won. Four from the Northwest Suburban Conference were down there and all of them won the first night. John Welter from Grant, a 133 pounder, placed second in the state.

The Antioch team placed third in the conference this year. "With a break or two we could have placed higher," Neuman says. "This is one of the finest groups of boys I have had the pleasure of working with. Even though we are losing 8 seniors off this team, we expect to do as well if not better next year with the strong sophomore group coming up and the juniors such as Bill Revell, Larry Davis, Dave Blagg and others who saw little action this year but who are all outstanding wrestlers."

"We expect Wilford Wells to go even further in the State Tournament next year," Neuman said. "And we were happily surprised at the performance of Terry Triplett, a freshman who wrestled his first varsity match in the District tournament and upset the number 2 seeded wrestler and went on to win 3rd place. We think Terry will be one of Antioch's outstanding wrestlers in the future."

Antioch's varsity mat men finished their season with a record of 10 wins and 4 losses. Following is the record of individual wrestlers on the team:

Howard Zimmerman, Hwt., 12-5-1, third in Conference, 3rd in District

Steve Revell, 180 (Senior) 14-6-0, 2nd in Conference, 3rd in District

Wayne Hansen, 165 (Senior & team captain) 14-2-1, 2nd in Conference

Don Miller, 154 (Senior) Mike Wells, 145 (Junior) 11-7-0, 3rd in Conference, 4th in District

Terry Triplett, 138 (Freshman) 2-1-0, 3rd in District Tom Aerne, 133 (Senior) Bruce Megleo, 127 (Senior) 12-6-1, 3rd in Conference, 4th in District Dan White, 120 (Senior) 11-7-1, 3rd in Conference, 4th in District Bruce Knutsen, 112 (Senior) 10-6-1, 4th in Conference Wilford Wells, 103 (Sophomore) 22-3-0, Conference Champion, District Champion, 2nd in Sectional, 7th in State

Also members of the varsity team:

Larry Davis (Junior) Bill Revell (Junior) John Koziol (Junior) Bob Diemer (Junior) Bill Nader (Junior) Dave Blagg (Junior)

William Neuman, coach of the varsity wrestlers.

Mon. Night Tavern League February 27

With Bob Steiskal leading the way, with 214-202-188—604, Johnson's Petite Lake Resort defeated Antioch Bowl two games.

Furlan's Tap led by "Wiggy" Bolton's 193-200-178—571, was outclassed, dropping 3 games to "Scotty" Lowe 180-187-212—579, and the Shady Rest Tavern team.

Open Door Tavern moved into a 3 way tie for second place by winning 2 out of 3 games from Helvetia Hotel.

Cole's Tavern won a pair of games from The Angels. Red Arrow, back on the winning track, won 2 1/2 games from Kempf's Tavern. Bob Bock 185-225-187—597 paced Brass Corners to 3 welcome wins over Patsy's Lounge.

Antioch Singles Gets Off To Flying Start

The Singles tournament at the Antioch Bowl got off to a fast start this past weekend, with local and out-of-town bowlers crowding the lanes to vie for the prize money.

This is the first year the tournament has been opened to women bowlers, and the women were well-represented on this first weekend. Local girl Clare Harms is at present leading the women's section of the tourney with a 679 series on games of 193-223-167, plus a 96-pin handicap. Betty Schneider, a member of the Antioch Bowl team, follows with a 618 series. Marlene Kaufman of Mundelein is third on the board with a 591.

Ed Manning, Sr., proprietor of the Family Bowl in Dassel, Minn., leads the men's division with a 681 series, on games of 189-201-235, for a 625 actual plus plus a 56-pin handicap. Fred Schurstein from Forest Park is second on the men's board with a 666. Don Ward, local bowler and secretary of the Bi-State League, holds third place with a 664. Don had games of 156-234-196, plus a 78-pin handicap.

Several well-known bowlers and groups are signed up to bowl in the tournament this coming weekend. Saturday, March 4th, at 2 p.m. the famous Schamberger Schlitz quintet from the West Suburban Travelling league will be trying for the big money. At 4 p.m., Paul Krumske of the Chicago Classic league and some of his team mates will take the lanes, repeating at 6 p.m. At 5 p.m. Saturday Ralph Trobiano and Chico Pacheco, former winners of the tournament, will make their bid. Many Scouting Activities Sustained By Memberships

The Northwest District of the Boy Scouts of America kicked off their annual Sustaining Membership Enrollment program with a dinner meeting at the Mundelein High School cafeteria Wednesday, March 1, at 7 p.m. More than 200 community leaders from Libertyville, Antioch, Wauconda, Round Lake, Lake Villa, Lindenhurst, Fox Lake, Grayslake, Green Oaks, and Mettawa attended the dinner meeting. Joseph J. Esop of Libertyville, the district enrollment chairman said 90 per cent of the program will be completed over the March 4-5 weekend.

According to Esop, sustaining membership enrollment provides and encourages the opportunity for citizens with a special interest in Scouting to help support the financial needs of the council. Twenty-three communities in the Northwest District enjoy the benefits of the Scouting program. With the exception of the Mundelein Area United Fund, the entire community financial support must come from sustaining membership enrollments. One dollar a month or a $12 membership will sustain one boy in Scouting for a year. A future payment pledge is also encouraged with the total amount subscribed, spread over a 12 month period.

Esop said the funds are used to maintain the many services which back-up the hundreds of volunteers giving leadership to the program. The North Shore Area Council maintains a service center with clerical staff to issue supplies of literature, insignia, forms, certificates and advancement badges needed by the leader to carry out his program. They handle membership registrations, Boy's Life magazine subscriptions, and the annual re-chartering of all Scout units. They record and maintain training and advancement records, produce bulletins to keep leaders informed of latest local and national events and program ideas. They handle phone calls and visitors seeking information and assistance in Scouting procedures, program aids to assist leaders and their committees. They make reservations for visual aid equipment, camping, training events, and special activities.

To assist leaders, the council employs a trained, full-time professional staff of Scout Executives who counsel and train volunteer leaders on unit programs, activities, and operation, and guide volunteer groups in the development of programs that directly benefit leaders and Scouts, and secure services through contacts with community clubs, churches, labor, industry, government, etc., for all units that they alone could not obtain. The council conducts activities in which units participate such as Boy Scout Week, Good Turn and Service projects, camporees, expositions, canoe trips, jamborees, and Explorer expeditions.

In educational and relationship programs, the council provides for the leader a library of training and promotional films, filmstrips, projectors and screens, at no cost to the unit, monthly program roundtables for committee members, leaders, and Den Mothers. The Scouters' Key, Mother's training award, Silver Beaver, and other Scout recognition awards. Junior leader training camps and programs, den chief conferences, Den Mother training, Cub Scout pow-wows, Exploring activities, a district merit badge counselor corps for more than one hundred subjects, public information programs. Materials and other cost for these services are included in the council budget.

In the field of camping and outdoor activities, the council maintains and controls more than 2,000 acres of summer and year-round camping facilities that are available to all troops and Explorer posts. It covers through its budget many camp costs such as repairs, replacement, maintenance, and insurance not paid for by Scouts' fees. Employ camp rangers for the protection of camp and the convenience of units using camp facilities throughout the year. It provides troop leaders camp manuals, camp films, camp slides, folders, literature, and other aids to help units with their outdoor program.

To help the leader develop his program, the council provides annual program notebooks, program charts, program quarterlies, membership round-up awards, Eagle Scout badges, Tenderfoot pins, Bobcat pins, Webelos badges, Boy Scout Week kits and posters, program outlines, books, pamphlets, folders, filmstrips, etc.

Actuaries Report on Job Safety

If you're looking for perhaps the safest job around, go to work in a button factory. Button-making could be even safer than sitting behind a desk, according to the Institute of Life Insurance.

An actuarial study of fatal accidents in all types of industries indicates that buttonmakers might have the best safety record of any occupational group. An average of 990 buttonmakers in the study had only a single fatal accident during a 10-year period. However, the buttonmakers were too small a group for calculating a meaningful fatality rate.

The study conducted by the Society of Actuaries, involved a total of 26,250 accidental deaths from 1955 through 1964, among an average of nearly 5.9 million workers covered by group life insurance policies with 14 leading life insurance companies.

Their overall yearly fatality rate was 45 accidental deaths per 100,000 workers.

Some occupations with very good safety records included cigarmakers and other tobacco workers, whose average rate was 18 fatalities per 100,000 workers; nurses and hospital employees, 26 fatalities; office clerical workers and telephone company employees, 27; retail merchants, 28; shoemakers and other leather goods workers, also 28; and soap makers, 29.

These figures include all types of fatal accidents, both on and off the job. And workers generally have more accidental deaths off the job than on the job. Those who lose their lives in traffic accidents or in falls at home are included.

Some of the more hazardous occupations included mining, logging and road construction. The combined fatality rate for all types of mining was 118 accidental deaths per 100,000 workers. The rate for woodmen and loggers was 122, and for road workers was 105.

By far the largest industry represented in the actuaries' study was metal product manufacturing. Because it involves much the largest number of employees, it also had the largest number of accidental deaths. However, fatality rates for employees of metal product manufacturers were generally close to the overall average for all industries in the study.

For example, employees of aircraft manufacturers averaged 48 accidental deaths per 100,000 workers. Auto and agricultural implement workers averaged 59. The rate for workers in radio, television and electronic manufacturing was 33.

The average for workers in steel and other metal mills and foundries was 63 fatalities. But steel building and bridge construction workers averaged 98.

Fatality rates for transportation workers ranged from 39 for taxi and bus employees, to 56 for railroad workers, to 69 per 100,000 airline employees.

The Society of actuaries is a professional organization of experts in the mathematical and technical aspects of life insurance and related fields. In a nationwide survey conducted by the Auto Industries Highway Safety Committee during the National Safety-Check Program, it was found that only slightly more than half of the 1.7 million cars inspected were equipped with seat belts. Only 37 per cent of the half-million drivers interviewed said they "always" use belts.

At 4 p.m. Andy Melant of the Chicago Classic and Ray Olson of Universal Bowling Supply will be on the lanes.

At 7 p.m. Dutch Hoffman, also a former tournament winner, will bowl with some of his team mates.

The popular Singles tournament will run through March 18, with tournament bowling all day Saturday and Sunday, and on weekday afternoons.

VA Re-Trains Wounded Vets

An order for 24 disabled Viet Nam veterans trained to become National Service Officers for the Disabled American Veterans is being filled by the Veterans Administration.

DAV wants the service officers for duty in its offices throughout the country. To qualify, each must be a seriously disabled Viet Nam veteran and be a graduate of a special college course set up for this purpose by Catholic University.

Under the speeded-up rehabilitation program, VA counselors have been going into military hospitals interviewing and helping wounded veterans get back into civilian life. The rehabilitation training offered disabled veterans is not new but the speed-up is, having been ordered three months ago by Administrator of Veterans Affairs, William J. Driver.

The VA counselor assigned by the Chicago Regional Office to work with Great Lakes Naval Hospital vets found a natural for the training program in Marine Corporal Jesse Brown of 7442 Dorchester Avenue, Chicago. Jesse was shot in the arm in Viet Nam and must wear a permanent brace.

This week, he entered Catholic University in Washington, D. C., for a four month course. Then he will enter a year of on-the-job training with DAV. VA will pay subsistence, tuition and all other school costs and will receive VA compensation of the year's training. In addition, the young corporal will receive VA compensation. Upon completion of the program, the Negro veteran will be installed in a DAV office to assist other veterans in obtaining the services and benefits to which they are entitled.

Bob Kilcullen of the Chicago Bears will be at the Lyons-Ryan Grand Opening this Friday night.

Mike Ditka, Chicago Bears star, will be at Lyons-Ryan Grand Opening Friday night.

Top Young Anglers

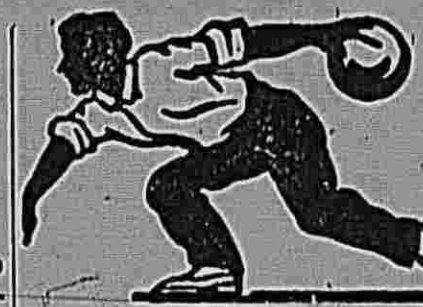

Two state fish records were broken by young anglers in 1966, the Illinois Department of Conservation has announced.

An 11-year-old fisherman, Larry L. Smith, Paris, caught a 1-pound, 11-ounce redear sunfish at an Edgar County farm pond. The new record for black bullhead was established on May 22 when Greg Aubley, a 6-year-old angler from Chatham, landed a 3-pound, 4-ounce bullhead while fishing a Sangamon farm pond. Both fishermen were awarded a silver pin and a State Record Fish Certificate.

Eight bronze pins and Big Fish Certificates were awarded to anglers who caught the largest fish in various categories, but whose entries did not break state records.

A total of 13 anglers submitted entries in the large-mouth bass category with the fish weighing from 6 1/2 to 9 1/2 pounds. The eight biggest fish were taken in March and April on deep running lures.

Paul Bay

Bernadette Bay

Bernadette's For Local Artists

"Bernadette's" is the name of the art supply store recently opened on Antioch's Main street, and its steadily-growing stock is filling a long-felt need of Antioch artists.

You don't have to be an artist, though, to find something of interest at Bernadette's. There are antiques, hobby kits, and an assortment of art objects for purchase.

The name of the store is the name of the feminine half of the husband and wife team who operate the store. Paul and Bernadette Bay combine their talents to fulfill Bernadette's dream of opening an art supply store.

At present, Bernadette is teaching art at the Richard Yates Elementary School in Chicago. Paul, a chemist, is tending the store while she completes her teaching year. Then Bernadette will probably devote herself to the store, while Paul pursues his career as a chemist.

Bernadette has taught art for 18 years, and hopes eventually to open an art school in Antioch, for both beginning and advanced students. Her paintings make up a good part of the stock at Bernadette's, as do her other artistic efforts.

Bernadette sees a possible object d'art in things most of us would discard. She's particularly fond of the results she obtains with melted glass, and everything from pins made from melted marbles, to a lovely medallion from a melted fuse, can be found in her store.

She's particularly proud of her artistry in the line of leaded glass, a rare art, she says. She carries all the supplies for pursuing this hobby and stands ready with help and advice.

Whiskey bottles, melted and decorated, become interesting and attractive decorations. Enameling on copper produces all sorts of decorative and useful objects.

Innertube printing, silk screen printing, sculpturing in clay and from black foam glass, are all parts of Bernadette's work, and she carries supplies for all of them.

Bernadette intends eventually to carry many small supplies not related to art which are difficult to find in a small town. Like strings for violins and other small musical supplies. And office supplies.

Bernadette's training gives her the knowledge to help out with advice where it's needed, and husband Paul's knowledge of chemistry often comes in handy, too. His knowledge of the makeup of paint often comes in handy when a potential customer wonders, for example, if an acrylic paint can be used over an oil paint. Even Bernadette occasionally turns to her husband for advice on chemical reactions.

The Bays already have many of the local artists on their list of customers, and hope to put on an art show exhibiting the work of local artists in the not-too-distant future.

Whether you're a do-it-yourselfer, or whether you're looking for just the right decoration for that empty spot on your wall, you can find what you want at Bernadette's.

Chronic cough and shortness of breath are common symptoms of most Respiratory Diseases, which must be controlled if tuberculosis is to be wiped out.

Your chances of avoiding injury and death in a traffic snafu are increased by more than one-third if you are wearing a seat belt. Buckle up for all trips.

Con. Edison To Build New Generating Station

Commonwealth Edison recently announced plans to build its sixth nuclear reactor in a new Northern Illinois generating station scheduled for service in 1972.

Chairman J. Harris Ward said a site for this station will be determined at a later date. The plant's first generating unit will have a capacity of 1.1 million kilowatts and the largest unit on the Edison's system.

Mr. Ward said contracts have been signed with Westinghouse Electric Corporation to supply the station's turbine-generator, a pressurized water reactor and the initial fuel loading. He said the entire project will cost in excess of $100,000,000.

Locations in Lake and LaSalle Counties are being considered for the plant, which will be the first of the company's nuclear stations that will not be built by the supplier on a "turnkey" basis. Edison will be responsible for the plant's construction and the procurement of additional equipment.

According to Mr. Ward, the station will increase the company's 1972 generating capability to about 13.5 million kilowatts. Over 30% of this capacity, or about 4,000,000 kilowatts, will then be in nuclear generating facilities. Edison's commitment to nuclear power is the largest of any power company in the country.

Mr. Ward said the capacity of the new station will be needed to meet the anticipated electrical demands of Commonwealth Edison customers. "Our load has been increasing at a 7 1/2 compounded annual rate," he said. "By 1972 our peak load is expected to increase by 4,000,000 kilowatts over last summer's maximum demand."

"Our selection of nuclear power for our newest stations is based on favorable economic factors and a number of other advantages offered by this form of energy production. Nuclear power plants make electricity without smoke, and this is an important consideration in our efforts to combat air pollution."

Also, our six years of operating experience with Dresden Station are encouraging. The original Dresden unit has demonstrated outstanding reliability while responding readily to our varying load requirements."

Mr. Ward said Edison will apply to the Atomic Energy Commission for a construction permit following selection of a location for the plant. Approval of the Illinois Commerce Commission also will be sought.

Commonwealth Edison Company already has under construction two 800,000-kilowatt class nuclear units for addition to its present 200,000-kilowatt Dresden Station near Morris, Illinois. Two other nuclear units of the same size are planned for Quad-Cities Station; a new plant to be built on the Mississippi River near Cordova, Illinois. The Quad-Cities project will be jointly owned with Illinois-Iowa Gas & Electric Company which will have a one-quarter interest in the station.

Edison's first nuclear unit,

THE ANTIOCH NEWS

at its Dresden Station, was placed in commercial operation in 1960. Since then it has generated more than 6 1/4 billion kilowatt-hours of electricity.

JAN. TRAFFIC DEATHS

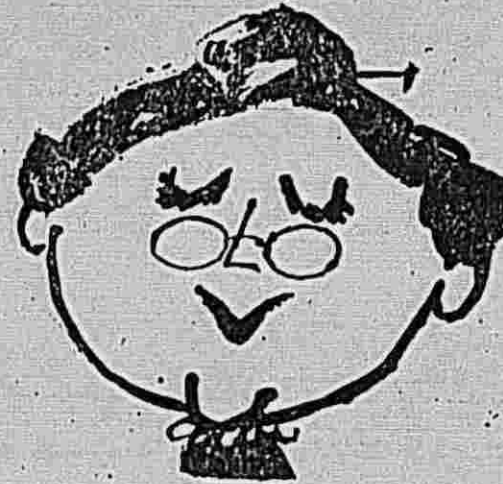

January traffic deaths in Illinois totaled 184, according to provisional reports released today by the Division of Highways and State Highway Police. The death toll represents an eight per cent decrease from the 201 deaths in the same month last year.

Francis S. Lorenz, Illinois public works director, said the death toll for 1966 now stands at 2,521, representing a 12 per cent increase over the 2,256 traffic deaths in 1965. Late reports and delayed deaths have increased the November fatality toll to 228 and the December toll to 218.

Traffic safety research has proven that the chances of being killed are several times greater if you are thrown out of your car in a traffic accident. Seat belts—if they are buckled—keep you safer within the vehicle should such an accident occur.

Township Government In Illinois

(This is the fifth in a series of articles about township government. It tells about township structure, who the officials are, and what services each official performs for the people of the township.)

Is government the servant or the master of the people? As constituted in America—and in the origination of township government—the primary purpose is to work for the good of the people. This, then, should be the occupation of the township's elected officials.

Under Illinois law, townships are authorized to administer important functions such as taxation, health and welfare, public improvements, road and bridge work, some educational matters, and aid to youth and the aged.

There are variations throughout the state, particularly between Cook County and balance of Illinois. These variations will be noted as they apply to the functions of the officials involved.

The town board consists of the supervisor, the town clerk and three auditors. Each has one vote on the board. Meetings are generally held once a month, although this is not required by law. Actually the board may meet more often if township business requires this.

Annual town meetings, which all the electorate of the township may attend, are held once a year on the first Tuesday of April. The purposes of these meetings are to inform the public what the township program will be for the coming year, and to obtain approval of the annual budget. Functions and activities are discussed at these meetings, and appointments made to committees or commissions. Also, a petition by 15 electors of the township can call special town meetings.

The supervisor is chairman of the town board, but not of the annual town meeting. At this session, a moderator from the electorate is chosen to be chairman, in true democratic fashion.

As the top officer of the township, the supervisor handles major administrative duties. He is the town's treasurer, responsible for receiving income and paying bills, and keeping accounts.

The supervisor also serves as administrator of general assistance and public welfare, in addition to all health, public improvement, youth assistance and other programs which the town undertakes.

In most larger downstate townships, assistant supervisors are elected, but do not serve on the town board. Their purpose is to add larger township representation on the county board from more heavily populated townships. With supervisors and assistants serving on county boards, township and county governments are inter-related from the township level upward.

There is a movement underway to change this structure. Some streamlining may take place in 1967, as it relates to the one-man, one-vote principle of representation.

In Cook County, a separate county board is elected, independent of township boards. This county board consists of 15 members, of whom ten are from Chicago and five from the suburbs. Again, the one-man, one-vote rule may affect this arrangement because of the rapid growth of Cook County suburban areas.

The town clerk has charge of all town records, certifies the amount of taxes necessary for township purposes, handles voting registration for township elections, issues election notices, and keeps minutes of all town meetings. This office was called upon recently to become more active in stimulating voter registration and voter turnout in all elections.

Town auditors perform the duties which their title suggests. They audit the accounts and the performance of the township. They function as representatives of the townspeople on the town board.

Other township officials are elected, but do not serve on the town board. Offices include assessor, collector, and highway commissioner, and in a few cases some offices are appointed by the town board such as water commissioner and weed commissioner.

The assessor is elected in all township counties throughout the state except his duties are not always the same. In Cook County, he assesses of real property.

His job is to check such property—not on tax rolls, and check property improvements which require assessments, which he then reports to the county assessor. He is responsible for assessment of individual and non-corporate personal property taxes.

In all township counties other than Cook County townships, the town assessor handles all real and personal property tax assessments.

The town collector exists in five counties in Illinois, but no longer exists in others, where a county collector takes over. Where this office does exist, the town collector takes in taxes for the county, and is authorized to retain 2 per cent of all money he collects for operation of the township. This means that in those townships under this system, generally no own tax levies are made, since the township usually can operate on the 2 per cent commission it earns. Where the earnings become greater than the operational needs of the township, surplus funds are turned over to school districts, thus giving tax relief to the people in these districts, and helping improve school systems in the township.

All townships in Illinois have highway commissioners, who supervise the construction and maintenance of township (rural) roads. In metropolitan suburban areas, such as Niles and New Trier Townships in Cook County, there are no township roads, even though a highway commissioner is elected. In such cases, this is simply an honorary position, and the township budget no funds for his "department."

Although there is considerable variation from township to township, most pay scales are not in high salary brackets. Township supervisors, for example, earn from $5 to $12 per diem. (Cook County they can be paid a flat salary per year not to be over $4,800). The township assessor receives a salary based on the population of his township, which varies from $20 per day in small townships to $12,000 per year in large townships of 75,000 or more population.

The township tax collector receives his salary on a sliding scale based on the amount of taxes collected by him. Clerks receive from $5 to $12 per diem if they are working on a fee basis. The electors can, if they so wish, place the town clerk on a flat yearly salary. If they choose to do this then the clerk must turn over to the township treasurer all fees collected by him.

Highway commissioners collect nothing in townships with no township roads. In townships which do have a road system their salary is set by the town board of auditors. If they are paid on a per diem basis they cannot receive more than $20 per diem. If they choose to pay their commissioner on a flat yearly salary it cannot be less than $3,000 per year nor more than $8,000 per year. Auditors receive from $5 to $15 per meeting, and the grand sum is not over $80 per year for their services.

So, township government is not expensive government. It is also clean government, because of the high caliber of local officials, and their closeness to the people.

The people get their money's worth, and more, in township services. These services will be spelled out in articles which follow.

TOWNSHIP BUSINESS: INCOME RECEIVED FOR SERVICES RENDERED

Within the state of Illinois, the federal government collects approximately $4 billion in income taxes. And this is only part of the federal tax take.

The State of Illinois collects about $2 billion. This comes from sales taxes, motor fuel taxes and vehicle licenses.

Illinois townships—more than 1400 of them—collect a total of approximately $45 million. Their revenue amounts to about 1% of the federal income tax collection.

In government, as in your personal life or in business, the bigger the income the more you can do. This explains why the federal government has moved into almost every area of governmental service. It explains why local governments are often strapped in their ability to deliver all the services which they are capable of providing—and can often do better when local administration is required.

Many economists and governmental leaders are thinking seriously about this situation. Economist Walter Heller, an adviser of two presidents, as well as several congressional leaders, have proposed plans to return some of the federal tax revenue to state and local governments.

This relates to the inherent ability of local governments to serve as highly efficient, effective bodies to administer matters of health, welfare, local improvements and many other services where the federal government is now involved.

Township governments are particularly well suited to be given more important roles in this picture. They are set up as excellent local districts for the administration of governmental business.

As matters now stand, where do townships obtain their tax revenue? How is their income determined? Who handles it, and what do they do with it?

Township revenue is obtained primarily from real and personal property tax collections. In most cases, townships also obtain a share of state motor fuel and sales taxes, as apportioned by the state of local governments.

Among Illinois townships, there are variations in the handling of township business and taxation, due to differing inter-governmental relationships.

In primarily rural areas, the township is the major governmental body serving unincorporated (non-city or village) areas.

Where single cities fill the geographical area of a township, township government is generally combined with city government. This occurs in cities such as Evanston, Peoria, Bloomington, Granite City and others.

In Cook County, townships do not function within the city of Chicago, although township units still technically exist in some outlying sections of the city. Cook County suburban townships—30 of them—have structures which differ from downstate townships, because of the inter-relationship with the large, powerful Cook County government.

Rural type townships establish their own tax levies based on estimated needs. They assess real and personal property taxes and establish tax rates accordingly. However, they do not handle the collection of taxes, which is done by the county, then apportioned back to townships.

City-township units combine all tax functions. In fact, job functions are handled by officials who serve both the city and township.

Townships in Cook County generally levy no taxes. The working revenue for these townships is determined by a 2% commission on real and personal property taxes paid locally.

In many of the growing, prosperous Cook County townships, total revenues frequently exceed budgetary needs. The general practice has been to turn over surplus revenue to local school districts. This enables schools to improve their facilities and also helps to relieve school district tax burdens.

In many townships, there is also a trend to increase township services, as voted on by the town board and approved by the local citizenry. However, relatively few townships are fortunate enough to have surpluses enabling them to consider an expansion of their services.

The costs of township services are usually small in comparison with other governmental sources. In many cases, township services are provided either on a volunteer or part-time basis. This is particularly true of commissions or committees which are set up to consider or administer certain health and welfare projects in a township. In fact, state law does not permit payment of personnel for many such projects.

Township budgets cover operating expenses, general assistance appropriations and an appropriation for roads and bridges (except where there are no township roads). These budgets must be carefully planned and justified, because they are subject to questioning and approval by the people at annual town meetings. It is extremely rare to find any padding or boondoggling in township budgets, because of this close control by the people.

Where else is this form of public control found in government? Some phases of township business and taxing procedures are likely to be modified and improved by legislative action in 1967. This subject is on the agenda of the next state legislature. It includes a proposal for redefining township laws, which will ultimately modernize the legal base for township government. Also, changes in property tax as-

Visiting Lecturer To Be At AGHS

Dr. Frederic A. Gier, chairman of the Lake Forest College department of biology, who is a visiting lecturer for the Illinois Academy of Science, will spend Thursday, March 16, at Antioch High School.

Besides giving a lecture he will conduct counseling sessions with students interested in science careers and meet with faculty members to discuss curriculum.

Testing procedures are scheduled for legislative action, which will standardize and improve this service.

What the people obtain in return for their investment in township government will be covered in the next group of articles.

Protect Your Children Against Measles, Says The AMA

CHICAGO—Now is the time to have your children immunized against measles if they have not already received this protection, says the American Medical Association.

Many parents are surprised to learn how dangerous this common childhood disease really is.

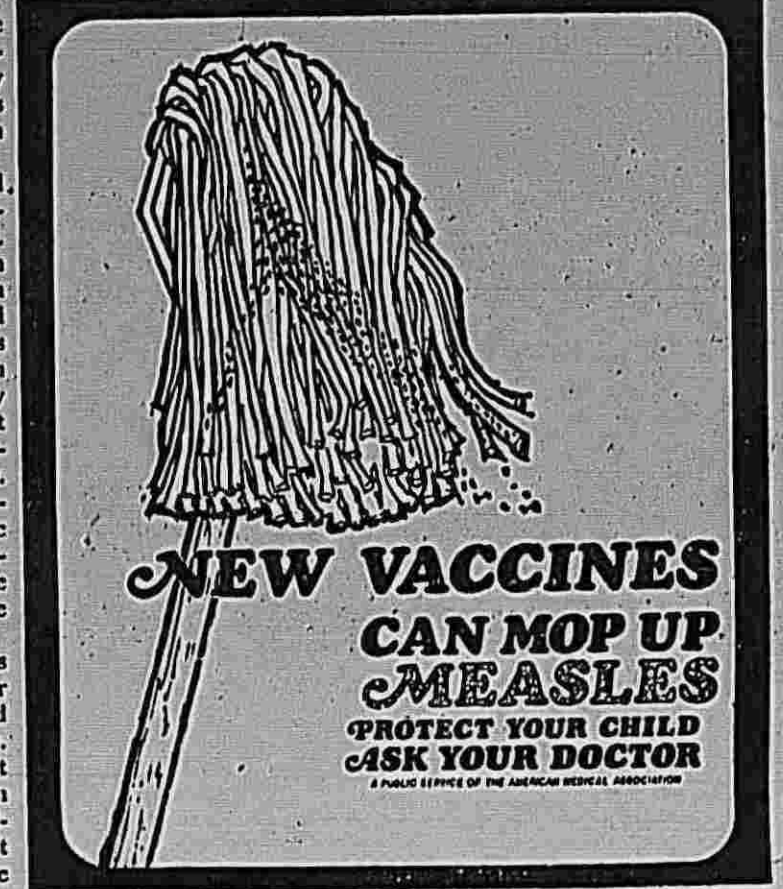

An estimated 250 American children died from measles in 1966. More than 150 suffered measles encephalitis, sometimes called sleeping sickness, or brain fever. Encephalitis frequently leaves children with permanent disabilities, including mental retardation, deafness, and blindness.

Future tragedies can be prevented, because safe and effective measles vaccines are now available. In the past four years, these vaccines have helped cut the measles death rate in half.

It's possible that measles could be eradicated in the near future if more parents protected their children with immunization.

The AMA recommends that every infant be vaccinated when he is about one year old. All children over this age who have not been vaccinated and who have not had measles, should be immunized now.

It is especially important that children in nurseries, kindergartens, and the first two grades of elementary school receive measles immunization. These youngsters have the highest risk of infection.

Measles immunization is safe, inexpensive, and easily performed. See your doctor for his recommendations.

If enough children are protected by immunization, measles will disappear. It's time to get rid of this familiar, but often dangerous, and sometimes deadly childhood disease.

Operation Step-Up

At Air Force bases and Army and Navy installations world-wide, the Red Cross is meeting a tremendous challenge resulting from the build-up in the Armed Forces of our country. Increasingly, as our Armed Forces continue to expand, servicemen and their families depend on Red Cross for help in solving critical problems made more acute by military service. New servicemen and their families are assisted by the Red Cross in their adjustment to military life when difficulties are encountered. Recreation programs in military hospitals and at selected locations overseas are carried on continuously. These services to the Armed Forces and veterans require about 40 per cent of the annual Red Cross budget. With your help, Red Cross will continue to serve those who serve in uniform.

Springfield Report

By Richard Lockhart

Politics is the name of the game when it comes to such issues as taxes.

Whether cities will have the power to increase their sales tax and whether they will be given the additional authority to impose local taxes on cigarettes, alcoholic beverages, and hotel and motel rooms may depend on the outcome of an issue which, at first glance only affects Cook County.

This issue, which was not expected to come to a head until the closing days of the Legislative Session (about June 30th) made its appearance when Richard Ogilvie, the Republican president of the Cook County Board of Commissioners (also potential candidates for governor in 1968), presented his proposal to save Cook County from cut-backs in services.

This measure entailed the transfer of motor fuel tax funds into other purposes peripheral to the normal and expressed usage of such funds, and it required statutory authorization.

Since this was an emergency measure, it required two-thirds vote. All indications were, earlier in the week, that the Democrats would be supportive. This quickly vanished when the measure came up for a vote and all Democrats and some Republicans, failed to vote either "yes" or "no."

The Republicans, 38 in number, were not completely unified on this particular issue, and when it was clear that it was not going to get the requisite constitutional two-thirds vote, (which in the Senate is 39), Senator Arrington moved to postpone the final vote.

The Democratic strategy was, in effect, to trade. They would support Ogilvie's proposal, in return for which the Republicans would support the tax proposals desired by Mayor Daley... these being an increase in the municipal sales tax and also permission to levy municipal taxes on cigarettes, liquor and hotel and motel rooms.

Whether this strategy will work or not, remains to be seen. It is clear to this writer that the Democrats cannot really afford to let Mr. Ogilvie's tax bill be defeated since they would be held responsible for such a course of action... and it must not be overlooked that Mayor Daley, chairman of the Democratic Party in Cook County, is up for re-election this spring. He, not the Democrats in the Legislature, would be the one held accountable. It should not be forgotten that the Republican majority in both houses of the Legislature does have the power to provide immediate retaliation.

One specific example could be to deny the appropriations now needed by a number of State agencies who have exhausted their budgeted amounts before the end of their budget period (June 30). These agencies are now asking the Legislature to grant them a "deficiency appropriation." Such measures require a two-thirds vote, and the Republicans are in an excellent position to delay their enactment.

This could be very inconvenient to Governor Kerner. It all means that both political parties will have to get together and compromise—which is the art of politics.

Representative W. J. Murphy (R-Antioch) was named a member of the Highways and Traffic Safety Committee and the Water Resources Committee.

Christened Four week old William Tracy was christened at St. Mark Lutheran Church last Sunday during the 10:30 Worship services. Godparents were Linda Lance and Philip Cammaratta.

Twenty-seven ladies walked into Mary Tracy's living room a week ago Sunday to give her a surprise post-baby shower. The little fellow received many lovely, useful items. He weighed 6 pounds 15 ounces when he was born and is up to 10 1/2 pounds. Mary says he is in the right family, he loves to eat.

Teen Birthday Party Debbie Bonovitz had a skating party at the Lakes Region Skating rink in Antioch recently to celebrate her 13th birthday. Thirty of her seventh grade friends attended.

Broken Ankle Mrs. Harriet Bonovitz turned her ankle and broke it while going to the mail box recently.

Blizzard Victim Ed Bernau spent two nights sleeping on a couch in the Stewart-Warner Corporation lobby when he wasn't able to get home January 26 and 27. On the 28th, he managed to get to Waukegan by train, and get picked up by his son, Bill. After staying here until Thursday, he took a train back to Chicago, and managed to dig his car out of the snow. Now it is safely back in the garage, and Ed is a commuter, until the city streets get cleaned up.

Volley Ball Team Mrs. Raymond (Pat) Parpan will supervise a volley ball team at the B. J. Hooper School on Sand Lake Road, for any girl, 11 years old and up. They must bring their gym shoes and be able to provide their own transportation. Hours will be from 6:30 p.m. until 8 p.m.

Ray Parpan supervises a basketball game on Thursday nights for the boys in the village. For more information call the Parpans.

Ladies Serve at U.S.O. Members of the Altar and Rosary Society of Prince of Peace Church and C.Y.O. visited the Waukegan Men's Center Saturday evening.

Mesdames Cecile Mann, Dorothy Kovenda, Marcia Rosol, Jenny Volpentesta, Petrowski, Carol Easley, Ruth Huber and Helen Mindak served the 18 home baked cakes that ladies of the parish donated. Twenty young ladies danced with the servicemen, who numbered around 150.

Bridal Shower Nothing prevents the Night-Owls from getting together. A week ago Sunday during the second blizzard, the ladies got together at Mrs. Betty Janega's home to shower Linnea Christensen, who is being married on March 4 to William Serchou of Wilmelka, formerly of Antioch. Former members Pat Schartz and Dorothy Moe, also were there. Other guests were Lynda Harsh and Linnea's grandmother, and Sue Buhnsel, a bridesmaid.

Telephone Call Mrs. Carol Fassbinder is hoping that her brother-in-law, Pfc. Gregory Fassbinder will be one of the lucky boys in Vietnam who will be able to call his mother, Mrs. Arlene Fassbinder, of 325 Highland Rd., Grayslake, for Mother's Day. "He has already been wounded," says

LOCK IT FOR SAFETY.

Ross V. Randolph, director of the Illinois Department of Public Safety, urges a greater public awareness of the seriousness of car thievery, particularly among juveniles.

"There are two means by which we can attack the ascending rate of car theft," Randolph said. "One is provided by law, but is all too often ignored—that of locking the auto and removing the keys to remove the temptation. The second is more education for the youngsters in school who are learning to drive."

Randolph believes that in addition to the present instruction in car operation, youngsters should be as thoroughly drilled in protecting autos from theft as from accident.

Car thievery is serious, Randolph said, and stolen cars often are used in the commission of other crimes. Many of these crimes are "spur of the moment" crimes committed because a stolen car is available.
